POST MASTER AT FLORALA MAY BE SHORT

Florala, Alabama, Sept. 23.—Postoffice inspectors and the bondsmen of S. E. Clark, postmaster here, took charge of the postoffice yesterday and are engaged in checking up the affairs of the office. A shortage of approximately three thousand dollars has been found already, it is reported. Clark and his family left here more than a month ago, stating that they were going to San Francisco, leaving the office in charge of the assistant postmaster and the city carriers. He first went to Pensacola, where he drew a large sum of money from the bank. Since that time nothing has been heard from him.

The alleged shortage exists in the money order department of the office. Numerous orders have been issued for large amounts and the stubs were made for small amounts. These orders have been cashed in many parts of the country. A former city carrier is supposed to have been the one to whom the orders were sent according to the inspectors.

Quite a number of local people held accounts against Clark. The bondsmen have secured an attachment for the household and office furniture of Clark.

W. A. BROWN OUT OF RACE FOR JUDGESHIP

W. A. Brown, clerk of the Circuit Court who has been regarded as certain timber for the probable judgeship of this county will not make the race as expected but will again be a candidate for the office he now holds.

This announcement will be like taking a thorn out of the flesh of some of the men who are now surviving the field and considering the advisability of entering in the race for Probate Judge. Mr. Brown has certainly been looked upon as one of the strongest possibilities. With this man out of the race it will be easier sailing for some of the other aspirants and it is expected they will be legion.

W. A. Brown would have made a good race. He has a strong following in town and in the country but after giving the matter due consideration he decided to ask the voters to keep him at his same old post. Circuit Clerk for another term.

Probabilities

These men are regarded as probable candidates for Probate Judge: A. Y. Malone, Mayor; J. B. Baker of Dothan; S. W. Burkett, A. C. Crawford, the present incumbent and W. J. Brown, the Dothan drugist.

WILL DRESS UP DOTHAN IN PARADE

The Decorating Committee of the Southeast Alabama Fair Association, headed by Miss Edith Whierette, is taking hold of the task of dressing Dothan up and putting it in a big parade on September 25 with a decorated float.

This is not going to be an easy task and this is perhaps why Miss Edith Whierette, Mrs. Fred Thomas, Mrs. L. E. Gellers, L. H. and Miss Anne Howell Jordan were selected for the work. They know that they must buy a float to make the parade which folks say it is going to be the most wonderful ever undertaken in this part of the State. Each of the members on this committee are particularly qualified for the work they have been chosen to do.

Dothan on Parade

Putting Dothan all dressed up and beautified with flowers in our monster parade is going to require energy, taste and talent and many more attributes of this is what the committee is going to do and if you doubt it just ask them about it.

Automobiles, carriages, sleds, floats of decorated orders will take part in the grand float parade on the opening day of the fair and will start on West Main street. The full route has not been agreed upon. Each automobile, whether it is of the touring type or a heavy one will be decorated with flowers. In fact every vehicle in the parade will be decorated with flowers.

Members of the committee are going after the merchants whom they want in the parade with their automobiles or vehicles. The committee will also seek out professional men in fact every body will be asked to take some part in this monster undertaking. Just what they are expected to do and the who's and wherefores will be announced by the committee later after they have had a little time in which to do some more planning.

But they are working daily to make the float parade Monday, October 25, a feature that will not be easily forgotten.

He will study political science at Harvard while his bride will enter the New England Conservatory of Music.

EUFAULA FOLKS TO SEE BAY COUNTRY

Citizens of Eufaula are expected to reach Dothan late Tuesday afternoon and from this point they will go to Panama City, Fla., where they will witness the embarkation of the steamer Brunswick loaded with South-east Alabama products.

The vice president of the railroad, R. A. McEver, was at on time a citizen of Barbour county and no doubt his many Eufaula friends will be glad to see him and to congratulate him on his new position with the Bay Line.

Yet aside from the social features of the trip there may be a deeper significance. It will be remembered that Eufaula has been clamoring for the Bay Line to go by that place in case the railroad is extended out from Dothan. The Eufaula people will hardly miss an opportunity to cement friendship between Eufaula and the railroad.

One of the first acts of the new superintendent, Mr. McEver, was the establishment of transportation facilities between Panama City, Fla., and New Orleans by water, the steamer Brunswick of the Mallory line, being used for this purpose. The steamer has already made one trip laden with Dothan cotton and other products.

DISPOSING OF U.S. PROPERTY IS CHARGED

Charged with disposing of some military shirts, which belonged to the United States Government, Charlie Beasley of Dale county, but who lived in another county at the time of the alleged offense, was arraigned before Federal Commissioner C. S. Turner here last night.

The commissioner postponed the case until September 30, owing to the absence of witnesses for the government. On the date set it is expected that the witnesses will be on hand.

It is not often that militiamen or others are prosecuted on charges of disposing of property that belongs to the government, but occasionally defendants are arraigned in court on such charges.

It is understood that the government has lost a bit of property during the past few years on account of negligence and other reasons and that the government is more alert in such matters now than was the case years ago.

BREAKS DOWN STALK OF CANE; COSTS $8

Trouble started for Robert Griffin and his friend, Albert Kelly, negroes, when they passed by a cane patch and Robert jumped over the fence and broke down a stalk while his friend waited on the outside.

The white farmer who owned the cane patch and whom Griffin was working for at the time had the negroes arrested on charges of petit larceny and they were today arraigned before Justice of the Peace T. W. Butler for trial. They plead guilty and were fined $1 each and costs which was $7 in each case.

SENTENCED IN NORTON CASE

Sulphie Hoverton and Albert Byrd of Henry county appeared in court and pled guilty to charges of robbery in connection with a sum of money, about $6,000, alleged to have been stolen several months ago from a farmer named Norton who lived near Abbeville.

The two boys pled guilty to the charges and were brought in court at Abbeville Thursday. They were sentenced to two years and six months each in the penitentiary.

These young men would have doubtless escaped with the money had not Sheriff May and deputies stopped the automobile in which they were riding in the Headland Avenue road near town and placed them under arrest. The officers searched them and found the missing funds.

TAFT WILL NOT RUN, DECLARES BROTHER

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 2.—William Howard Taft is not an aspirant for the Republican presidential nomination in 1916, Henry Walters Taft said here today. The former president's brother said he had talked with the ex-president in California and felt confident he would resist any overtures to become a Republican nominee. Mr. Taft was here en route to the Taft ranch near Gregory, Texas.

T. W. SIMS WITHDRAWS FROM RACE FOR SENATE

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 23.—Thomas W. Sims, congressman from the eighth district, today withdrew from the race for the democratic nomination for senator, announcing that the time was too short for him to make a canvass. Three contenders are left in the field, Senator Luke Lea, former Governor M. R. Patterson and Congressman K. McRellar.

RUSSIA WILL PERMIT NEW ARMY NOW EXPORTS TO AMERICA AT DARDANELLES

Washington, Sept. 23.—The formal agreement between the Russian embargo against export to the United States has been signed by Secretary Lansing and George Balabanoff, the Russian ambassador. The Russian goods will be allowed to come to the United States assigned to the service of commerce on condition that the Russian government agree on satisfactory guarantees that the merchandise will not reach the enemy.

American firms must agree not covering the value of shipments. If any part of such goods is exported the bond will be forfeited and the firm involved will be prevented from securing in the future Russian merchandise.

The arrangement is expected to release millions of dollars worth of goods to America in the porters held up since the beginning of the war.

C. L. Harrell of route 6, was a Dothan caller today.

Boston, Sept. 23.—A telegram from London has been sent to the assistance of the allied forces at the Dardanelles, according to the Overseas News Agency.

This information was confirmed by a news agency says, in a dispatch from Athens. The reinforcements of the French and British troops are said to have landed at Suda Bay, in Lemnos island in the Aegean.

May be Italians

The original expedition force on the Gallipoli peninsula has been strengthened by large contingents of troops, principally British. If the information from Athens is correct, however, it may mean that the new army has been sent to Italy.

Several transports departed from Italian ports with large contingents of troops to the front. They sailed under secret orders. A dispatch from Rome at the time said it was generally believed they were the employed for operations against Turkey.

J. M. Smith of Ashford was in Dothan yesterday on business.

C. C. Gaston, prominent citizen of Maysville, was transacting business here today.

GEORGIA FARMER SHOT WHILE ASLEEP

Bainbridge, Ga., Sept. 23.—Jasper Spooner, a prominent farmer living near Iron City, in this county, was shot while asleep in his bed about 1 o'clock Wednesday night.

Mr. Spooner is an uncle of Judge H. B. Spooner of the city court of Bainbridge, and is not known to have any enemies. Early in the night before retiring the wounded man thought he heard suspicious sounds without his window, but his wife persuaded him that there was no cause for alarm. Upon retiring he left all the doors of his house open, as is his custom during warm weather.

He was awakened during the night by a gunshot from some one who no doubt was standing over him. A load of buckshot tore off the top of one of his shoulders and inflicted a very painful wound.

Deputies from the sheriff's office went to the scene with dogs at an early hour this morning, but so far no arrests have been made. One clue is said to point to rather sensational developments, but this has not been sufficiently worked out to be announced.

W. E. Hickem, of Ashford, was a Dothan business caller today.

Judge J. M. Sneed, a former citizen of Dothan, but now of Floradale, Fla., was here yesterday meeting old friends.

HUSBAND OF AMERICAN KILLED AT DARDANELLES

London, Sept. 23.—Captain Roger Francis Draper, son of the Rev. William H. Draper of Leeds, has been killed at the Dardanelles. Captain Draper was married last December to Miss Anna Lovell Gardiner, daughter of Robert H. Gardiner of Boston.

STYLE AND SNAP!

Our stock is complete for everything men and boys wear. Our clothes are made so well that you never question the wearing qualities. For the kind of a rig you want for yourself and boy see these clothes with all their Fall newness.

Boys suits that are stitched too well to play out—colors that don't fade—woolens far too good to disappoint—and snap and style to spare.

THE APPENDIX.

An eminent physician is an authority for the statement that the appendix is "not in such bad odor as it was a decade ago," says the Birmingham Age-Herald. Surgeons are actually refraining from removing it in some cases of appendicitis.

Here's hope for the timorous person who imagines every time he has a pain in his abdomen he is a potential candidate for the operating table. However, let him not be too sanguine. While there is a disposition nowadays on the part of surgeons to make sure that an operation is absolutely necessary before cutting open a patient, and not to cut him open first and then apologize afterward if a mistake is made, the appendix is just as treacherous as ever and we are advised to leave the matter of operating or waiting entirely to the judgment of a competent surgeon.

Some cases of appendicitis get well without an operation, and while there may not always be the need of an immediate incision, particularly during a first attack, we are informed that an appendix that has once given trouble is a bad thing to carry about. The average person would vastly prefer to have it out. That is infinitely better than hoping to "pull through" the next attack, which is liable to come at a most inconvenient time.

Another question frequently asked by the laymen, says the authority quoted is: "What did people die of before appendicitis was discovered?" The answer is "inflammation of the bowels." Nowadays the deft surgeon snips out the offending appendix while the inflammation is localized.

A DIRECT YOUNG MAN.

Perhaps it is not too much to hope that things in the Colorado mines will never be as bad again as they have been in the past now that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has been there, slept and ate with the workmen, talked to them personally, and at times without escort, under all imaginable situations and conditions, observes the Mason Telegraph.

He's a young man who wants to do what is right, this Rockefeller. His heart is not the molasses which feebly throbs within the bosom of his aged but by no means venerated father, who made too much money and made it too fast to be a good man, a Christian man. Young Rockefeller has given of his time, far more precious to a millionaire than his money, without stint to the aid and help of those classes of people who by no chance could ever come in contact with him. There we must give him the credit of sincerity in that he really wants to help.

Events of the last two years have shown that there is a big need for his efforts in his own Colorado mines, although at the time it broke out he stood pat and played the game, the game business feels it must play to live, with his executives in his mines. That has blown over and he is now looking into things. He seems to be going about it thoroughly and from the ground up. He may revolutionize the relations between capital and labor yet, that young man. Maybe after his father dies.

BRAIN.

By Dr. Frank Crane

The most amazing thing about the world is the human brain that appropriates it.

That mass of corrugated gray matter housed in bone which registers the impressions received from all things, from stars to dust motes, is by far the most wonderful substance of all the substances.

What would a tree mean if there were no brain to see it with its eye, to hear it with its ear, and to touch it with its hand? Nothing. Practically it would not exist.

There would be no sun if there were no eye, no perfume if there were no nose, no sounds if there were no ear.

Blot out brains and the universe is extinguished.

There may be other suns in the sky, there may be spirit bodies moving among us, there may be stupendous music swirling around us, all of such quality that we have no organ to perceive them. For us they do not exist.

A telephone would be a dead thing and useless without a receiver. The brain is the receiver of the universe.

Very wonderful is Paderewski's performance upon the piano, Raphael's colors upon canvas, Shakespeare's words on paper, and all of the Creator's glory of landscape and sea view; but not so miraculous as the grayish stuff in our heads that can receive their messages, record them and translate them into emotion.

It was not such a task to create a world as it was to construct this curious organ that the world can play upon. For a world with no brain in it would be an Ysaye without a violin.

So also a Wagner's opera is surpassed by the brains that can understand it. Newton's mathematical theses, and Wordsworth's poetry, and Socrates' reasoning, and Lord Christ's life truths, greater than these are the people that can grasp them.

My mind is the ultimate miracle. Long before this brain came into being there were electricity, light, sound, color, and all the phenomena of existence, but, actually, the universe was created when I was born, and when I die it will be the end of the world.

The whole cosmos, the sum of things, is all in that pulp in the honeysuckle at the top of my spine. More strange yet than our ability to perceive sights and sounds is our capacity for understanding those motions of pure spirit that go on in other brains. We can see the hope, love, hate, joy, and sorrow of another, interpreting them by words, signs, and other indications.

We can grasp world plans, recalcitrant scientific theories, and the subtlest refinements of thought. We can weep at poetry, laugh at comedy, mourn in sympathy, fear from our own fancies, feel sin and rightness, follow evil or worship God.

Of all jewels found in earth or sea, of all machines made by man's cunning, of all the incomprehensible works of the Deity, nothing excels that handful of gray substance that functions like a locked up god in the cranium of the "two legged animal without feathers."

LITTLE TALKS ON THRIFT

By S. Straus, President American Society for Thrift.

Of one hundred and seventy ranking officers of a great Eastern railroad system, one hundred and sixty-three, including the President, began as boys or young men at the very bottom. That is, they began by sweeping out cars, running errands, or working with a gang on the road bed. But they had stuff in them that made it impossible for them to remain at the bottom. Boys of that kind always find a way to the top, no matter what the business is.

Men who have climbed the ladder to success have only done so after persistent struggle and acts of self-denial. Hours that other youths trifled away in useless pleasure were devoted to study. They realized the truth of the saying:

"Sow an act and you reap a Habit,
Sow a Habit and you reap a Character,
Sow a Character and you reap a Destiny."

The immortal Abraham Lincoln was a notable exemplar of the value of thrift of time. We can picture him trudging forty miles to borrow a coveted book and reading it at night by the light of a pine fire after an arduous day's work log cutting.

Here is a timely example of success made possible by thrift of time. The United States Government through Secretary of the Navy Daniels, recently appointed a Milwaukee man, Nels Anton Christensen on the inventor's staff of the new United States Naval Board which includes the greatest inventive minds in the nation. Born in Denmark, Mr. Christensen's school days ended at 14 years. He worked in a machine shop after that and attended a technical school in the evenings. From his savings he completed a course in the Copenhagen Technique Institute at 21 years. Previous to that he attained native competence as an engineer, having designed, when but 19 years old, the Danish lighthouse at Havnsholm, one of the largest in the world.

During three years he spent as engineer on an English steamer engaged in Mediterranean trade; he had learned enough English to secure a position with an English manufacturing concern and twenty-four years ago he came to the United States. Since then he has invented many compressed air brakes, starters for railroads, aeroplanes and fire engines that have brought him international fame.

To attain success these men were studious and thrifty. They sought to learn everything about their work. They did not find it necessary according to their idea to spend all they got and use their credit beside. Their provident habits made them ambitious to rise in the financial and social scale.

It was the great Gladstone who pointed out that thrift of time brought results beyond our fondest expectations, while waste fulness of time was attended by disastrous results equally as surprising.

Perilous Occupation Gives Rise to Hallucinations, Which Fortunately Are Not Lasting.

There is plenty of romance and excitement connected with the work of diving for pearls in the waters of West Australia, but one of the strangest things about the business is the curious mental condition of the divers while they are under the water groping for precious gems. During a part of his time below the diver is said to be bordering on insanity.

A grudge against or a suspicion of those above is suddenly magnified in the diver's imagination, and he signals to be pulled up, resolved on immediate revenge. When he reaches the top, however, the imaginary wrongs vanish.

At a depth of 80 feet the diver cannot see well, he moves painfully and he breathes hard. At every foot deeper he thinks how slight a mishap may befoul his lifeline, and all his thoughts tend to center on his hazards.

At such times the inadequacy of his pay appears to him as a huge grievance, but when he comes to the surface and rests a few minutes all is again serene.

REVERSED ORDER OF THINGS

Black-Eyed Susan Exception to Rule That Vagrant Seeds Travel From East to the West.

Fighting her way across the American continent, black-eyed susan has proven the master of the albatross of man and nature. In the competition of life she has been able to make a home wherever she sets her foot, and neither the rivalries of the field nor the laws and labors of man have been able to hold her in check. Black-eyed susan loves dry fields and open, sunny places. Its flowering season is long, from May until September. It is one of the few vagrants that has traveled from the West to the East. In years gone by much clover seed was shipped out of the West, and black-eyed susan holed her way along with it. Most of the weeds of the field have followed the star of empire, from the East to the West; but black-eyed susan has reversed the progress, and she has now secured a foothold in and is fighting for the conquest of the fields of Europe.

PROTECTIVE UNIFORMS.

Much dispute has arisen about false colors—not only the flags of all nations that ships carry—but the most invisible color for the soldiers' clothes. Germany puts its money on gray, and we have selected a sort of yellow reminiscent of Sudan desert. But the Turk on the Gallipoli peninsula has chosen green. It is a useful spring color when the Turk paints himself green, covers himself with spring foliage, and "snipes." Yet the wearing of the green is becoming dangerous about the Dardanelles.—London Chronicle.

A SUBDUED VOCALIST.

"Pa, you sing bass in the choir, don't you?" asked Bobby Smithers.

"Yes, my son," replied Mr. Smithers.

"And ma sings soprano?"

"That's right."

"Well, there's one thing I don't understand."

"What is it?"

"Mrs. Tompkins says you sing mighty big in public and mighty small at home."

PRIDE.

"Is your boy ever at the head of his class?"

"No," replied Farmer Cornstossel; "Josh doesn't get to the head of his class. But you jes' ought to see him slide to second base!"

WAR IN PORTERIN INVENT IONE, SAYS MARCONI

GUGLIELMO MARCONI

London Sept. 24. Guglielmo Marconi, the inventor of the wireless telegraph, is authority for the statement that the world will be surprised when the war is over by the immense strides that have been made in the wireless field as a direct result of the conflict. The benefits of these inventions he says will be a great measure offset the immense losses of life and money which was taken as a toll.

At present Mr. Marconi is spending three weeks of each month with the Italian forces in the field in charge of the communication department while the other weeks he spends in England conferring with the British war office and conducting experiments. Although he would give no direct information he intimated that the wireless telephone had been developed to a high state of efficiency. He also said that the German submarines were equipped with powerful wireless apparatus capable of sending messages for 1000 miles.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Use it like a cold cream and dry Eczema eruptions right up.

The moment you apply cold sulphur to an itching or broken out skin the itching stops and healing begins, says a renowned dermatologist. This remarkable sulphur made into a thick cream effects such prompt relief even in aggravated Eczema that it is a never-ending source of amazement to physicians.

For many years cold sulphur has occupied a secure position in the treatment of cutaneous eruptions by reason of its cooling, parasite-destroying properties and nothing has ever been found to take its place in relieving irritable and inflamed skin. It is the skin's natural remedy for all itching and burning eruptions and is often used later in the treatment of the skin again and again.

Any good dermatologist will supply an ounce of cold sulphur which should be applied to the affected parts by the ordinary cold cream. It is not unpleasant and the prompt relief afforded is very welcome, particularly with the Eczema in accompanied with tortuous itching.

UNWRITTEN LAW THE DEFENSE OF MRS. BELLINA.

Mrs. Rosa Bellina and Her Daughter, Frances, Posing as the "Madonna and Child."

New York, Sept. 23.—Mrs. Rosa Bellina, twenty year old wife and mother of two children, who shot and killed James Montiglia, an artist and musician in Brooklyn, because he refused to marry her after her husband had cast her aside, will use the unwritten law as her defense in the trial which is now proceeding.

Montiglia, who lived at No. 281 First street, Brooklyn, until he was shot on the night of August 25, won the love of the woman, while she was posing with her seven months old baby girl, for a new painting of the Madonna and the child, it is said. Then when she fled to him for protection, her husband, having discovered their relations, he merely laughed, declaring that he could never marry a woman with two children. The older of the two children is now in her third year.

Difficulty was experienced in the selection of a jury, many of the men in the first panel saying flatly that they believed Montiglia "got what he deserved."

Mrs. Bellina shot Montiglia in his rooms, while she held her baby in her arms.

Her husband is a wealthy Brooklyn contractor.

WOMEN CAN HARDLY BELIEVE

How Mrs. Hurley Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Eldon, Mo. — "I was troubled with displacement, inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased every month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, and had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world. After I had tried most every female remedy without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself."—Mrs. S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it? Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

TEMPERANCE NOTES

(Conducted by the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union.)

NO MODEL LICENSE LAW.

Major Dan Morgan Smith was for four years general counsel for the liquor organization known as the Model License league. The following paragraphs from an address of his shows why he threw up that position and is now speaking and working for prohibition.

"For four years I advocated the passage of a model license law as a means of lessening the evils of drink. As the head of the law department of one of the three largest liquor associations in America, I maintained that its passage would take the liquor dealers out of politics and the law-breakers out of the liquor business."

"Was I wrong? I shall never know, for the liquor crowd were paying me to talk reform and paying others to defeat reform."

"The model license law was effective as a vote-getter, but it never cleaned out one dime, never effected one reform, for, although advocated in every fight against prohibition in the last six years, it has never been enacted in any place. Its advocacy has fooled more decent people into voting with the liquor crowd than all the specious nonsense about taxes and personal liberty put together. Can we expect laws from the liquor camp that will eliminate the dive, or lessen drunkenness or stop the sale of liquor to minors? Can we expect brewery agents to pass laws that will take away the license of brewery-owned saloons? Can we expect legislators, nominated and elected by the brewery interests, to pass laws that will take the liquor business out of politics? No, the only thing we can expect from the liquor people is just what we have received in the past—lying promises."

PLEA FOR THE CHILD.

(From Address by FANNIE PATRICK MURPHY, of Texas.)

I contend tonight that there are helpless children whose little bodies are crying out for nourishment—the food they need—and yet the mother cannot cook it for them because that bunch got all the money first! The little child is crying. I'll tell you, and I am sure any doctors in the audience will bear me out, when a child in the poorer homes is not properly nourished, his pain is not in the stomach alone; there is not a blood cell in its little body that is not suffering.

I maintain that you men who are going to vote wet, should think of this: There is not a blood cell in the child's body that is not crying out to you God against you.

In your city there are little wasted hands raised up in pleading. You will find them in the homes of your drunkards. You will see the faces of the little ones, thin, emaciated and telling pathetically of their hungry bodies. Those little children are praying that you will decide a great question regardless of what you seem to lose by it.

HERE TO STAY.

The following is quoted from a letter written by Senator Moses E. Clapp of Minnesota to George W. Perkins, chairman of the Progressive national committee. "The prohibition movement to day differs from that movement in other times. When you and I were boys, every spring there was seen a temperance agitation and everybody took the pledge. Some kept it and some did not. The present movement is entirely different. There is no hysteria or excitement about it. It is simply a calm, deliberate judgment on the part of the American people, from the man who employs to the man who is employed, that the saloon is a menace. Having come in this quiet way, free from hysteria and excitement, and as a result of deliberate judgment, I am inclined to think it is here to stay, and if times are good, is liable to be more of a factor than we sometimes suppose."

IN RUSSIA.

From July to December there were recorded in Petrograd in 1913 ninety-seven suicides, but in 1914 only fourteen. The same phenomenon was observed in Warsaw, where during the first half of 1914 there were recorded 419 suicides, and during the second half only 205. The reduction of the number of small loans made by the pawnshops, and the increase of the deposits in the savings banks, were among the further gratifying results of temperance. For the first two months of 1915 the savings banks of Petrograd received deposits exceeding the figures for the corresponding months of 1914 by one and a half million rubles ($250,000), while throughout Russia the quantity of deposits increased by a hundred billion rubles ($10,000,000).

Millinery Department

Dothan's Best Store

We introduce to our Dothan friends Mrs. Fullford, who will have charge of our Millinery Department the coming season.

Before adding Mrs. Fullford to our staff we wrote the owner and manager of Birmingham's largest millinery department for reference, he wrote us that Mrs. Fullford had been with his establishment for the past three years and that he could unqualifiedly recommend her for any place any where.

Before going to Birmingham, Mrs. Fullford trimmed for one of Montgomery's best stores several years.

We did not want to make a mistake, so we carefully investigated her record where ever she had been—We are pleased to say we found it most satisfying.

In turn—We now recommend her unqualifiedly to you.

We will show in addition to our own hats—Copies of all that's best from Paris and New York.

Sing a song of laughter,
A pocketful of smiles,
What the world is after
Beats all other wiles.
Life's too short for grumpiness
Spend your little while
Looking for the beautiful—
Wearing of a smile.

At thirty, man suspects himself a fool,
Knows it at forty and reforms his plans;
At fifty chides his intemperate delay,
Pushes his proudest purpose to resolve;
In all the magnanimity of thought
Resolves and resolves—then dies the same.
